

This bulletin board is a great reminder of fall and the awesome learning that awaits us. October is a beautiful month filled with fall colors and a brisk air that sweeps away the “newness” experienced on the “first day of school.” We now have entered a deeper stage of learning. September gave us days to get to know our students and learn about their interests, strengths, and areas of opportunity. This information is vital in helping us shape a student’s educational journey and can be monitored with a student learning objective (SLO). Think of the leaves on a tree as pieces of learning that build up a student’s body of knowledge.

There are multiple resources to help you create an SLO. Visit the SLO arts resources located at <https://dpi.wi.gov/fine-arts/pd/slo>. The site includes the SLO Arts Sharing Site, where you can post your SLO, share ideas to help others, and gain constructive feedback from your peers. These resources are available to support you. I look forward to your questions about Wisconsin arts education matters. Thank you for supporting our students in the arts.
